Cigar List

Unlike fine wines, Havana cigars do not suffer excessively from “good” and “bad” years. However, like fine wines, Havanas do improve with age. We are delighted to offer you The Boisdale Vintage Selection of aged cigars.

All boxes of Havanas officially imported into the UK carry a colour coded English Market Selection (“EMS”) label which enables the connoisseur to determine the year in which duty was paid on the cigar. The vintages quoted in this list are derived from the EMS label and indicate the minimum age of the cigar, although not the year of harvest of the tobacco from which it is made.

Members of The Boisdale Jazz & Cigar Club receive a discount on cigar prices except for The Boisdale Vintage Selection. For information about becoming a Member of the Boisdale Jazz & Cigar Club, please speak to the manager on duty or contact our Membership Secretary Mark Shelton on 07469 854 298 (events@boisdale.co.uk).

The details of forthcoming Members events including cigar dinners and tastings can be viewed on our website www.boisdale.co.uk.

a great wine is to the art of drinking.”*

BOLIVAR

Named in memory of Simon Bolivar, the brand was created in 1902 and from the outset became the benchmark for strong, full flavoured Habanos. Bolivar cigars are rolled using oily wrappers which deliver deep flavours with a rich aroma. Bolivars are usually not the first brand choice for cigar novices. The Royal Corona and Belicosos Finos are the brand's flagship cigars and the re-edition of the Gold Medal gives a touch of elegance to the range.

COHIBA

Cohiba, created in 1966, is the most prestigious of the Cuban cigar brands. For many years it remained for diplomatic use only. Today the brand includes 4 distinct lines: Classica, 1492, Maduro 5 and Behike as well as many Limited Editions and Reservas, often called the “selection of the selection.” Cohiba is the only brand with a triple fermentation process. Despite premium prices their popularity keeps growing and each new Cohiba cigar causes a sensation in the world of aficionados. In 2010 Cohiba Behike 52 claimed the title of international cigar of the year.

CUABA

Cuaba is the Taino Indian word for a bush of great burning qualities. The brand was created in 1996 and is a revival of the figurado, the most popular cigar shape of the 19th century. Cuabas are very unique cigars, with a mellow blend and are often described as sweet. The burn is sometimes uneven and the larger vitolas are considered the brand's best cigars. It is common that in a Cuaba box all cigars look slightly different as they are made without the use of a mold.

“When on occasion I’m asked by groups of aspiring writers what they should do to get on, my advice is always, emphatically, smoke. Smoke often and smoke with gusto. It’s a little known, indeed little researched fact of literature and journalism that no non-smoker is worth reading. And writers who give up become crashing bores.”

AA Gill, Sunday Times

DIPLOMATICOS

Created in the 1960s for the French market Diplomaticos reached considerable popularity especially in the cosmopolitan South. Today the brand is often compared to the blend of Montecristo. Diplomaticos have a citric, tangy aftertaste and are well-made, fairly priced but lacking image, identity and distinction.

EL REY DEL MUNDO

The brand was created in 1882 by the Allones factory as a premium quality Habano. The success of the brand lives on to this day in a range of cigars renowned for consistent quality wrappers and a light to medium strength. El Reys are great cigars for early day smoking.

HOYO DE MONTERREY

Situated in San Juan y Martinez, the brand was created by Spanish emigrant Jose Gener in 1865. Due to the unique conditions of the farm, near a river in a valley, Hoyo's are said to be some of the best cigars in the world. The blend is renowned for its light flavour but intense aroma and some of the Hoyo's cigars are considered classic Habanos.

LA GLORIA CUBANA

La Gloria Cubana was founded in 1885 and has an excellent reputation among knowledgeable smokers. The brand is responsible for some great cigars; characterized by elegant presentation and well balanced nuances of taste and aroma. The Gloriosos will not disappoint those willing to explore beyond the mainstream. The Gloriosos line was made exclusively for the U.K. with only 2,040 boxes produced.

“The Christians met on the way many people who were going to their towns, women and men, with a firebrand in the hand, and certain weeds whose smoke they inhale which are dry weeds stuffed into a certain dry leaf in the form of a musket made of paper, like the ones the children make on the day of the Holy Ghost; and burning a part of it, from the other part they suck or absorb or admit the smoke with breathing.”

Christopher Columbus,

JOSE PIEDRA

Jose Piedra are the most accessible Habanos. Handmade, they offer a pleasant and fairly good smoke. Piedra cigars were first aimed at the Cuban internal market and later, together with other low profile brands, were included in the Habanos range.

JUAN LOPEZ

Another of the niche brands, Juan Lopez is not well known today. Despite this, it has attracted a group of aficionados since its creation in the 1870s. Credited with a very consistent medium to full blend strength, cigars are made in small batches and have a very good ageing potential. The Selecccion Suprema is exclusive to the U.K. but made in limited numbers.

MONTECRISTO

The most popular Cubans around the world. Created in 1935, in the early days Montecristos were sold exclusively at Dunhill shops in New York and London. Today the range has changed and in the 1980s the brand was responsible for international sales equivalent to the rest of the other Cuban brands put together. Montecristos range from medium to full strength and the assortment of cigars within the range covers every smoker's needs, from tiny Joyitas to 9" Montecristo A; the N°2 and N°4 being cigar classics.

PARTAGAS

Created by Don Jaime Partagas in 1845, the brand is one of the oldest and most prestigious Habanos. The Partagas blend has a consistently deep, rich, earthy flavour, and a strong aroma. The brand is often the choice of experienced smokers and its characteristics make it a perfect after dinner cigar. The series D N°4, a Robusto, is today the brand's most popular cigar.

PUNCH

Founded in 1840, Punch is one of the oldest Habanos brands. Characterised by its spicy yet mild blend and sweet bouquet, the brand achieved great popularity in the U.K. in the late 1970s with cigars such as Punch and Double Corona. With a wide cigar range, attractively priced, Punch is a good choice for occasional cigar smokers. The U.K. Edition of the Serie D'Oro N°1 is probably the best Punch cigar we have seen in many years and is the ideal ambassador for new smokers of the brand.

QUAI D'ORSAY

This cigar brand was created by Cubatabaco in 1973 for the French government's tobacco monopoly, SEITA. The cigars are made primarily for the French market and are blended with French tastes in mind, being a milder brand. The tobacco comes from Vuelta Abajo province of Cuba and its wrappers are distinguished by their claro & colorado claro colours.

RAFAEL GONZALEZ

Created in the early 1930s by a Spanish aristocrat, originally called La Flor de Rafael Gonzalez, it is a less known brand, nevertheless well respected and praised by many discerning smokers. The cigars are well made, have an even burn, a complex aroma and a rich but subtle flavour. A delicate and elegant cigar ideal for early day smoking.

RAMON ALLONES

A small cigar brand, Ramon Allones is one of the oldest brands of Habanos still in production, with its origins dating to 1837. The brand blend is characterised by intense and complex flavour, dark wrappers and rich aroma. They are well-made cigars preferred by many discerning cigar smokers, offering great quality and character at lower prices than other Habanos. Ramon Allones are made at the La Corona factory alongside Bolivar and Partagas. The brand's blend has turned milder in recent years, yet losing none of its great flavours.

ROMEO Y JULIETA

Made famous by cigar devotee Sir Winston Churchill, the brand was founded in 1875 and is a benchmark for the medium flavour Habano cigar. Romeo y Julieta offers the widest range of cigars of any Cuban brand and vitolas such as the Churchill, 7" / 47 gauge has been adopted by many other tobacco companies. Romeo's blend is well balanced and aromatic and has been consistent over the years. In the large cigar range strength can vary from light to medium Cedros and medium to full Belicosos. Cigars such as the Short Churchill, Cedros N°3 and Petit Coronas are the brand's top sellers.

SAN CRISTOBAL DE LA HABANA

Created in 1999, the brand brings a range of lighter style cigar aimed at novice smokers. All the vitolas in the range are exclusive to the brand and are named after the capital's fortresses. The blend is very subtle with a buttery aftertaste, probably the mildest Cuban in production. Quality is high, with faultless draw, cool and even burn and glossy wrappers. A great choice for a light daytime cigar or as an entry level strength for novice smokers.

SANCHO PANZA

Named after D.Quixote's servant in the Cervantes's novel, its origins date back to 1848. Sanchos are a mild to medium blend and the flavour is very particular, high in acidity and saltiness. The brand is often not a top choice for experienced smokers as they regard it as bland and lacking character. The Belicosos is the most popular Sancho Panza cigar.

TRINIDAD

Trinidad is a brand shrouded in mystery. Made since 1969 at the Cohiba factory, only small quantities were produced as diplomatic gifts, and in only one size, the Fundadores. For 29 years on rare occasions the cigars reached auction rooms with prices reaching up to $500 per cigar. In 1998 the Trinidad brand was launched to the general public and despite consisting of a small range they quickly gained a reputation as a premium brand offering high quality tobacco and faultless assembly. Trinidad's blend is very distinct and unique. Smooth, buttery, elegant and complex are some of the terms used to describe Trinidad cigars.

H. UPMANN

Created by German banker Herman Upmann in 1844, the brand is known as a fine example of an elegant light to medium Habano. The brand today comprises a wide range of cigars in a blend praised for quality leaves, from tobacco grown in Cuba's premium region Vuelta Abajo. Upmann has been the winner of several Gold Medals throughout the years and in the 1930s introduced the metallic cigar tube.

VEGAS ROBAINA

Launched in 1997 and named after Don Alejandro Robaina, probably Cuba's most famous tobacco grower and owner of the only private farm on the island. Robaina cigars are of great quality, robust blend and notably spicy. Not for smokers looking for subtle flavours, the blend is complex and rich – a great after-meal cigar. Well made, Robaina cigars only reveal their full potential after a few years of ageing. The brand's initial vintages are maturing now and they might well become seriously sought after.

ARTURO FUENTE

DOMINICAN REPUBLIC

A very well established brand, Fuente cigars are very desirable in the American market and are selling at premium prices. Created in 1964 by A.Fuente, a Cuban, today's cigar range reflects the 1960s Cuban cigar style. The series Opus X and Hemingway (made from smaller vitolas with a multinational leaf blend) receive excellent reviews and are of great quality. The Opus X is a Puro (wrapper, filler and binder of the same origin) with a medium to full blend. The Double Corona is the most prized cigar of the range but the real star of the series is Perfecto (double pointed cigar) Short Story.

Ashton Virgin Sun Grown (VSG) was introduced in 1999 and it's without a doubt the brand's most successful blend. Conceived in close cooperation with Oliva and Fuente, it is blended from Dominican tobacco aged for 4-5 years and wrapped in a sund-dried, slowly matured Ecuadorian leaf. It has scored countless 90+ ratings from CI/CA and is considered one of the most sought-after cigars in the American market.

DAVIDOFF

DOMINICAN REPUBLIC

In 1967, Davidoff was approached by Cubatabaco, (Cuba's state tobacco monopoly), about creating a personal brand of cigars for his stores. The cigars were rolled in the newly-established El Laguito factory in Havana, which had been established to roll Cuban President Fidel Castro's own private cigars, Cohiba. In 1968, the first of Davidoff cigars were released, which included the No. 1, the No. 2, and Ambassadors (all shared the same size as the early Cohiba line) and the Châteaux Series (now no longer under the Hoyo de Monterrey label, but exclusively made for the Davidoff marque).

FLOR DE SAN LUIS

NICARAGUA / CUBA

Flor de San Luis cigars are made in small numbers mainly due to the rare blend used by the manufacturers. Tobacco from Cuba and Nicaragua is blended together in variable ratios resulting in a very unique set of flavours. Made with extreme care, smooth and complex, these cigars are ideal daytime smoke, praised for their exclusive taste.

PADRON NICARAGUA

Padrons are made in very limited numbers and considered Nicaragua's best cigars. Created in 1964, the brand achieved an international reputation and is highly rated in cigar reviews.

Highly successful in the American market, the Padron cigar range includes the 2, 3, 5, 6 and 9000 series; the 1964 anniversary; and the very exclusive 1926 editions. Quality is high across the range and the blend can vary from full to rich, to milder, subtle and complex 1964 and 1926 editions. All editions are presented in natural or maduro wrappers.

ROCKY PATEL

HONDURAS/FLORIDA, USA

Created in the 1990s with the head office in Florida, Rocky Patel are not tobacco growers. High quality tobacco is often imported from Honduras and wrappers from Indonesia. Blends are prepared with great care and cigars rolled by mainly Cuban cigar rollers. Not a very complex cigar style, Rocky Patels are however a very pleasant and high quality satisfying smoke that will be ideal for those casual occasions when one just wants a nice cigar.

TATUAJE

NICARAGUA / USA

Tatuaje cigars are Nicaraguan puros handmade in Miami, Florida by the most highly-skilled torcedors under the guidance of Cuban ‘maestro tabaquero’ Jose Pepin Garcia. Created by Pete Johnson, each Tatuaje cigar is handcrafted with 1st generation Nicaraguan Cuban-seed tobacco cured to perfection and finished in zesty Ecuadorian-grown Habano wrappers with a beautiful Cuban-style triple-cap. These medium to full-bodied cigars are perfectly balanced with a rich, earthy and spicy complexity.
